

Join us for an evening of Wok & Roll with

Peter House Kwong

Thursday, May 17, 7 pm

Larsen Family Public Library

A collection of recipes, philosophy and laughter

Nearly a half century ago, a young Peter Kwong left his native Hong Kong for the United States. He knew no one. He had never been in this country before. But thanks to a California family that took him in as one of their own, he has been able to live life that he describes as a dream. "It was like my life was full of miracles," says Peter, author of the popular "Wok & Roll" newspaper column in the Inter-County Leader.

Peter's book is a compilation of his newspaper columns, now divided into categories such as Friends and Passions, Food, Beverages, Traditions, Jokes, and My Philosophy of Life. His enthusiasm for life, laughter and good food are evident throughout the book. And he continues to ask a simple question of all of his readers: Are you ready to Wok & Roll?

Please join us for an entertaining evening featuring a cooking demonstration, singing, and storytelling.

Mr. Kwong's book will be available for purchase and signing. It is also available at www.phkwong.com.
